

BLUMENTHAL
PERFORMING ARTS

Jennifer Catrambone has served as the Director of Human Resources since 2021 and has over 25 years of human resources experience. In her current role, Jennifer is responsible for leading Blumenthal's overall human resources strategy including compliance, compensation, benefits, talent acquisition, culture and engagement, performance management, employee relations, diversity and inclusion, training and development.

Prior to joining the Blumenthal team, Jennifer held human resources roles in various industries including government, education, manufacturing, restaurants, consulting, and law.

Jennifer holds her Master of Business Administration (MBA) and has a Bachelor of Arts in Industrial/Organizational Psychology. She is also a certified Senior Professional in Human Resources (SPHR) and a certified Change Management Practitioner through Prosci. She lives in Concord with her husband, four children and their two dogs, a not always well-behaved Yorkie and a goofy Goldendoodle.